

The Loft at 708

WEBSITE CONTENT WORKSHEET

Hi Michelle — a website for the hall is drafted and live for preview at:

<https://huntingdon-banquet-website.vercel.app>

Everything on it right now is a best guess — the words, the prices, the policies, all of it. This worksheet walks through the site page by page so you can make it yours. Nothing goes live as fact until you've confirmed it here.

HOW TO FILL THIS IN

Next to each piece of the site you'll see what it currently says. For each one, do whichever is easiest:

- If it's right and sounds like you — write "keep" or just leave it blank.
- If the fact is wrong — write the correct fact. Don't worry about phrasing.
- If it's true but doesn't sound like you — scribble how you'd actually say it.
- If you don't know yet — write "TBD" and we'll keep it vague on the site until you do.

Plain notes are perfect. "no cash bar, everything hosted" is all we need — we'll handle the wording. Type into this document or print it and write on it, then send it back.

THE FIVE DECISIONS THAT MATTER MOST

If you only have ten minutes, do these — they're marked ★ throughout:

1. The prices on the rate table (page 4)
2. Bar packages and their dollar figures (page 4)
3. The booking policies — reservation fee, insurance, catering rule (page 5)
4. What's actually included with the room (page 3)
5. When you're opening, and how tours should work (page 6)

1 • The basics

These facts appear all over the site. One correction here fixes them everywhere.

WHAT THE SITE SAYS NOW	YOUR CORRECTION (LEAVE BLANK IF IT'S RIGHT)
Venue name: "The Loft at 708"
Address: 708 Washington Street, second floor, Huntingdon PA
Capacity: up to 250 guests
Size: about 80' x 50' — 4,500 square feet
Six original timber posts stand in the open floor (1890s frame)
Second floor, reached by elevator and stairs; ADA accessible
Full bar on site — you hold the liquor license and staff the bar
The building is from the 1890s
Opening timeframe (site just says "opening soon")	When can we say?
Phone number / email to publish for inquiries	What should we list?

THE BUILDING'S STORY

The weddings page ends with this line — is the history right?

A factory, a hardware store, a furniture store, a record store. Yours is the fifth thing this room has been.

Your notes (keep it / change it to... / that's not right):

★ THE MINI GOLF & ARCADE NEXT DOOR

The arcade next door is our (separate) business — you run the Loft, we run that, and the site is clear the two book separately. Right now your site uses the neighbor angle as a selling point: rehearsal groups walking over for a round, a kids' room during receptions, corporate lunches pairing the two. Are you comfortable with your site pointing guests next door like that — want more of it, less of it, or none?

Your notes (keep it / change it to... / that's not right):

2 · Homepage

THE BIG HEADLINE

First thing anyone sees, over a photo of the room:

Exposed brick, tall windows, and a bar that's ours.

And beneath it:

A 250-guest event hall on the second floor of an 1890s building in downtown Huntingdon.

Your notes (keep it / change it to... / that's not right):

THE KINDS OF EVENTS WE ADVERTISE

The homepage shows eight tiles. Cross out any you don't want, add any we missed, and fix the starting prices:

EVENT TYPE AND STARTING PRICE	YOUR CORRECTION / CROSS-OUT / ADDITION
Weddings — from $4,500
Celebrations of life — from $1,000
Showers & parties — from $1,000
Graduations — from $1,000
Class reunions — from $2,000
Church & civic banquets — from $2,000
Corporate & meetings — $150 / hr
Anything to add? (quinceañeras, proms, fundraisers...)

“DOWNTOWN, NOT A CORNFIELD”

A whole section argues that being downtown beats the barn venues: guests walk to dinner, the tavern is a floor down, the block is the amenity. Comfortable taking that swing at the barns, or soften it?

Your notes (keep it / change it to... / that's not right):

3 · The Room page

This page has an interactive floor plan (marked “illustrative” for now) and a specifications list.

★ WHAT COMES WITH THE ROOM

WHAT THE SITE SAYS NOW	YOUR CORRECTION (LEAVE BLANK IF IT'S RIGHT)
Included: tables, chairs, setup and teardown, floor-length linens, an event attendant, wifi
In-house: full bar, house sound system, projection
Catering: any licensed caterer may be brought in; no food prepared on site (no commercial kitchen)
Parking: municipal lot behind the building + metered street parking (free after 6pm and weekends)
Load-in: rear load-in with elevator access

THE FLOOR PLAN

The drawing shows the arched window wall along Washington Street, the bar at one end with a canopy above it, the elevator in a corner, and six posts. What's wrong with that picture? (Sketch on it, describe it, or say “close enough for now.”)

Your notes (keep it / change it to... / that's not right):

4 · Weddings & Pricing

★ THE RATE TABLE

Published prices are the site's whole pitch — “most halls make you call for a number; we'd rather you know.” If you'd rather NOT publish prices, say so and we'll rework it. Otherwise, correct these:

WHAT THE SITE SAYS NOW	YOUR CORRECTION (LEAVE BLANK IF IT'S RIGHT)
Saturday, peak season (May–Oct): from $4,500
Friday or Sunday: from $3,200
Weekday, full day: from $2,000
Half day, up to 5 hours: from $1,000

WHAT THE SITE SAYS NOW	YOUR CORRECTION (LEAVE BLANK IF IT'S RIGHT)
Hourly, 3-hour minimum: $150 / hr
January–April: 20% off

★ BAR PACKAGES

The site describes three ways to pay for the bar but deliberately leaves the dollar figures blank. Fill in what you actually plan to charge (or “TBD”):

BAR MODEL	YOUR NUMBER / CORRECTION
Hosted per hour — beer & wine tier: $____ per guest / hour
Hosted per hour — full bar tier: $____ per guest / hour
Hosted on consumption — minimum: $____
Cash bar — guests pay per drink (no host cost)
Can hosts mix models (hosted beer & wine, cash spirits)?

WEDDING PACKAGES

Three packages are described: “Ceremony & reception” (full day, 10am–midnight, from $4,500) · “Reception only” (2pm–midnight, from $3,200) · “The small wedding” (weekday 6-hour block, from $2,000). Right structure? Right hours?

Your notes (keep it / change it to... / that’s not right):

★ THE TERMS

POLICY AS WRITTEN	YOUR CORRECTION / THE NUMBER
A non-refundable reservation fee holds the date and is applied to the balance — how much is it?
Client must buy day-of event insurance (runs $100–$200)
Food may be served and held here but not prepared on site
Anything else people must know? (decor rules, end times, smoking, candles...)

5 · “For your guests” page

A page couples can send their guest list: where to stay, where to eat, how to park. The places below were my best guesses from a distance — please fix names, distances, and add or cut freely.

WHAT THE SITE SAYS NOW	YOUR CORRECTION (LEAVE BLANK IF IT’S RIGHT)
Stay: Gage Mansion B&B — Penn Street, ~4 blocks, walkable
Stay: Comfort Inn — S 4th Street, ~0.6 mi
Stay: Fairfield by Marriott — Route 22, ~2.5 mi
Eat: Muddy Run Tavern — ground floor of your building
Eat: Sazon Latina — across Washington Street
“Coffee, pizza, a brewpub, and a diner within a block”
Drop-off: pull up out front on Washington
Other places worth listing?

6 · Booking a tour

The site has a working “book a tour” page (currently a demo — it doesn’t send anything anywhere yet). Before we wire it up for real:

QUESTION	YOUR ANSWER
★ Tours run about 30 minutes
★ What days / times will you actually show the room?
Where should tour requests go? (email, phone, a booking app you already use?)
“A real person reads that inbox” — who?
No deposit and no account needed to book a tour
Do you want a “check your date” availability calendar, and who keeps it current?

7 · Photos, voice, and anything else

PHOTOS

The photos on the site today are the mid-renovation shots, clearly labeled as such (“dust and all”). When you have finished photos — or want a proper shoot — they drop straight in. Anything currently pictured you’d rather not show?

Your notes (keep it / change it to... / that’s not right):

HOW THE SITE TALKS

The writing is deliberately plain and direct — it says the price, says who cleans up, no “timeless elegance awaits.” Does that feel like you? Anything that made you wince?

Your notes (keep it / change it to... / that’s not right):

THE CATCH-ALL

What’s missing? What should go? What do people always ask you that the site should answer?

Your notes (keep it / change it to... / that’s not right):

When you’re done, send this back (photos of handwritten pages are fine) and the site will be updated to match — usually same day.
